THE DUVALL FOOD FOREST

COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS

Every fourth Monday,
beginning October 28, 2019
through April 27, 2020 (omit December).
6pm to 9pm at The Duvall Public Library
Free! Everyone welcome

Join us for a six-part series of fun, educational, and engaging conversations, leading us to the creation of a design plan for a one acre community food forest!

With the guidance of artist and earth steward Jeff Davis, along with other community leaders, explore topics of permaculture design, agroforestry, and placemaking. Understand the principles and process to create your own food forest at home. Become a founding member of a project that intends to make a postive social and environmental impact.
